

Summer at Santa Catalina

a place to discover • a place to learn • a place to grow • a place to have fun

"One of the strongest areas of their camp is the cultural stimulation - not only with art and dance but the social environment. Our daughter was happy to meet girls from Mexico, Japan, and China."

"The activities and classes offered to my daughter cultivated a sense of wonder and adventure, allowing my shy child to gain both confidence and belief in herself and her abilities. I love that she took opportunities to step outside of her comfort zone and took new classes and tried new things."

Summer at Santa Catalina

Summer Camp • Girls • Ages 8-14 • Grades 3-9 in Fall 2009

Comments from Camper Parents:

"When I picked up my daughter, I could see it was the best experience she could have had. She learned so much and had such a wonderful time!"

"Our daughter had a great summer experience! She enjoyed all of her classes and her expectations were all met. She is going for five weeks next summer so she can be in the play! The theatre program is wonderful. We always look forward to the play at the end of camp."
